The Chain O'Lakes

BRINGS WATER FUN TO ALL AGES

As the old saying goes, "10% of the fishermen catch 90% of the fish."

If you're planning a fishing trip to the Fox Chain O'Lakes, make it a fun and successful one by understanding the sport of fishing and the best bait and tackle to use, as well as when, where, and how to fish.

The Fox Chain O'Lakes, spanning 7,200 acres, is the largest inland water-oriented recreational asset in Northeastern Illinois. Located about 40 miles northwest of Chicago on Illinois Routes 173 and 12, near the towns of Antioch and Fox Lake, it offers easy access to the minor cities of Chicago and Milwaukee.

In addition to hotels, motels, and resorts with cottages in the marina area, you'll find numerous marinas, restaurants, pubs, bait and tackle stores, and recreational lakefronts.

When enjoying the Chain, safety should be your number one concern. Make sure all your equipment is in working order, avoid overloading your boat, and refrain from running it at high speeds in unfamiliar areas. Be courteous to everyone around you and help where needed.

According to a survey conducted by the U.S. Coast Guard, the Chain sees an average of 60,000 people on weekends and up to 100,000 people on holidays.

The Illinois Department of Conservation is closely monitoring the future of the Chain, recently expanding both the walleye and muskellunge populations throughout the area.

With over 40 species of fish in desirable sizes and numbers, the Fox Chain provides the best fishing experience in Northern Illinois, attracting anglers from all over.

As a public navigable waterway managed by the Department of Transportation, Division of Waterways, the Fox Waterway Agency, Department of Conservation, and Division of Fisheries, all state boating, hunting, and fishing regulations are applicable and enforced.

For more information on the Chain O'Lakes, you can contact the Fox Waterway Agency at 847-587-8540 or visit FoxWaterway.com.
